Brass Ring Basic Training

Overview and Instructions

The purpose of Basic Training is to develop the competencies necessary for true fitness. This free week provides you with a sample of what a week might look like. Each workout is taken from a different week within the program to show the diversity in the training.

The main objectives are:

- Develop the habit of consistency through simple but effective workouts.
- Learn proper technique by reviewing tutorials when new exercises are introduced.
- Create strength and balance in your body by using functional movements.

Instructions for the Free Basic Training Week:

1. Make sure the program you've downloaded is right for you. If any of the workouts are too hard for you to finish, go back and download an easier version. If they are too easy, try a harder version.
2. Review all of the exercises by clicking on the link, even if you think you know how to do it. Remember that the purpose of using exercises in your training is to elicit a physical response. If you don't perform them correctly, the response will not be the desired one.
3. Modify the weight recommendations if they are too heavy to safely perform the number of repetitions called for.
4. Keep track of your times or number of rounds. Remember that the clock is a tool used to measure the progress of how effectively you are able to accurately perform the exercises.

There are five workouts within the week. Perform them in order, but not necessarily in a 5 day period. Take rest days as needed to ensure you are effectively recovering, or to allow for flexibility in balancing training with other work and family obligations.

Coaches Comments
Training Objectives	Warm Up	Prepare the body for exercise via escalating intensity through light warmup, stretch, and active warmup.
	Workout	Full body functional workout with high metabolic demand.
Special Notes	This workout should get the heart rate up quickly. The demand of each of the exercises is pretty high, so there's not really anywhere to rest. Try to keep a consistent tempo on the first round and then beat the time each round after that.

Coaches Comments
Training Objectives	Warm Up	Prepare the body for work.
	Workout	Strength / Stamina / Cardiorespiratory Endurance
Special Notes	Take as much time as you need to complete the warmup. Remember that in the warmup the two most important things are 1. Good Technique and 2. Full Range of Motion.
	This workout is a smoker. Start off at a reasonable pace and try to hold it.

Coaches Comments
Training Objectives	Full body functional strength and increase in anaerobic threshold.
Special Notes	This workout uses most of the biggest muscles of the body as the primary movers. Expect to feel the heartrate come up drastically as you move through the rounds.
